VANDALS TORCH BAYSIDE CHURCH BUS

There have been several acts of vandalism at Bayside Baptist Church over the past few months, Pastor Richard DeVault said Monday, but things escalated exponentially on Sunday when someone torched the church's bus.

"They took the cap off, lit a rag, and left that rag in the gas tank," DeVault said. "Of course, it isn't like on TV, so the van didn't explode, which is good — our building didn't suffer any damage or anything."

The incident occurred at around 8:30 p.m. Sunday. The Bayside and Clermont Harbor fire departments quickly arrived on the scene and stopped the fire, but DeVault said the van was a total loss.

"We know (the fire) was intentionally set, but's that about as far as we know," DeVault said. "Basically, there's been a bunch of random acts of vandalism at our church and other churches in our community. ... We give back to the community and (these vandals) just keep taking. We need the community to stick together and helping each other out, especially in these crazy times we're living in."

"That church van was not there just to look at. That church van was there to get children and adults

CONSTANCE CARES FOR CANCER PARADE ROLLS THIS SATURDAY

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The second annual Constance Cares for Cancer parade is scheduled for this Saturday, Oct. 23.

Hancock County native Michael Joseph is the founder of the organization, which provides financial support for local families battling cancer.

Michael's mother,

Constance Joseph of Waveland, passed away in 2012 from colon cancer.

Long before his mother became ill, Michael knew that he would return to his hometown to give back.

Michael works in real estate in Texas.

In addition to providing for cancer patients, he also hosts backpack giveaways during back-to-school months.

Prior to his mother's illness, Michael said, he never realized the full extent of the struggles and burdens associated with not only the cancer treatments themselves, but also finding reliable transportation and lodging for those who seek

Tiger Pride Marching Band takes top honors

The Tiger Pride Marching Band.

SEA COAST ECHO

The Tiger Pride Marching Band has earned top honors at recent competitions after coming back from an off-year because of the pandemic. At the Swamp Classic in Gautier on Oct. 2, the Bay High School band competed against seven others in the morning session and received first place honors in visual, music, general effect and color guard as well as Best in Class. The Tiger Pride also received the top overall scores in music, general effect, color guard, and band out of all eight competing bands in the first half of the competition. Eric Fry, director of bands, said, “We did not field a marching band last year because of the uncertainties with Covid, so we have an extremely young and developing band this year. Despite every obstacle thrown at us, the students have risen to every challenge and occasion this year.” The band received an overall superior at their show on Sept. 25 in Biloxi, Fry said, “and we continued that great work to a successful performance at Gautier. The whole band staff is so incredibly proud of all of their hard work.” Taylor Pierson is the associate director of bands and Liz Cain is Colorguard instructor/director. On Oct. 9, the Tiger Pride performed at the State Marching Evaluation in Gulfport and received straight superior ratings in all categories: colorguard, percussion, drum major, and from all three band judges. With their performance, the Tiger Pride qualified for the 4A State Marching Championships at Germantown High School which will be held on Oct. 30. Bay High is one of only 16 4A bands across the state to qualify for State Championships, Fry said.

The Curse

“Beauty is a curse on the world. It keeps us from seeing who the real monsters are,” The Carver from ‘Nip/Tuck.’

The Carver was a serial rapist and murderer on the dramatic series “Nip/Tuck.”

It’s one of my favorite television shows and I’m currently rewatching the series for at least the fourth time. It’s nice to have streaming services so that I can rewatch shows that were adequately written and performed versus some of the drivel that is on television today.

“Nip/Tuck’s” creator is Ryan Murphy who is also responsible for bringing us the glorious American Horror Story series.

The thing I like about Murphy’s series is that he tackles real topics.

Take “Nip/Tuck,” for instance. It’s about two plastic surgeons who live in Miami and later Los Angeles. It’s about how far people will go to look younger or alter a feature they don’t like. It’s also about way more than just plastic surgery, but I won’t give away any spoilers.

But the show is not always about tummy tucks, breast implants, or face lifts, they also show procedures performed on genuine health concerns like skin grafting a burn victim, removing human shrapnel from a woman who was almost killed by a suicide bomber, fungus removal, facial reconstruction on a woman whose face was damaged due to a gun shot wound.

Yes, I know this is a dramatic show, but the themes are applicable to real life.

The Carver cuts his victims’ faces as a way to bring attention to the harm that comes with striving to look a certain way because society tells you that it’s normal.

No, he shouldn’t cut people’s faces or rape them. But he does have a point. We do concentrate a lot on outward appearances. And sometimes, we can’t look past that to see people for who they really are.

Take Ted Bundy for instance. He was a serial killer. But it was his allegedly dashing looks that made him so irresistible to women, even after he was on trial and convicted for murder. Then there’s also convicted murders Chris Watts, Scott Peterson, and even Richard Ramirez, who have “fangirls.” They were cold-blooded murderers, there’s nothing attractive about that.

HANCOCK HISTORY: LEETOWN

HANCOCK HISTORY
BY James Keating M.D.

The historic community of Leetown, Mississippi, is located in the northwest part of Hancock County in the beautiful countryside of the Catahoula Creek basin. Early pioneer settlers such as the Lee family discovered this prize, vacant, fertile soil and established small farms there in the mid-nineteenth century. Other early settlers/farmers, much like Freeman Jones, established the community of Center (Caesar) on the site of an old Choctaw Indian village, located just across the creek from Leetown. The two villages of Leetown and Center have a shared history that continues to this day. Other families such as the Resters occupy the southern side of Leetown, and they provided important leadership for the community in the twentieth century. These communities benefited greatly from their churches and a shared religion.

The early pioneer settlers of Leetown and Hancock County were small scale farmers/herders living in simple dogtrot log cabins. These subsistence farmers depended on game and natural resources in the piney forest to support themselves and their animal stock of cows, sheep, hogs, and poultry. The railroads came to Hancock County in the latter half of the nineteenth century and provided opportunity for men to supplement their income working part time for the railroads during the off-season winters. The railroads transformed the timber and turpentine industries everywhere and were also a boon to farmers. The new opportunities for part time employment and markets for various cash crops or livestock meant loss of a certain satisfaction of self-sufficiency enjoyed previously. This was traded for the increased standard of living or prosperity of this growing local economy.

The two villages of Center (Caesar) and Leetown, separated by the Catahoula Creek, were codependent with intertwining shared histories. The pioneer families would share church pastors and intermarry for the next 170 years. Old family names in Leetown were Lee, Stockstill, Rester, Jones, Spiers, and Seals. Old family names in Caesar were Jones, Goss, Pearson, Stanford, Lumpkin, Varnado, Smith, and Breland. Caesar grew faster in the early years when it was the county seat, possessing at one time a post office, log courthouse, a jail, a hotel, a barroom, and a few stores and houses for city officials. Leetown would gradually grow to present day size of approximately seven hundred residents, but Caesar’s population diminished over time.

In the mid-nineteenth century, the folks in one town would walk the few miles across the Catahoula Creek where there was an easy passage at a natural ford to visit relatives, to shop, or to attend prayer meetings in the other town. An old swimming hole was present at this ford in the creek where baptisms were performed as late as 1920.

One of the first pioneer settlers of the Lee family migrated to the

NATIONAL FOREST PRODUCTS WEEK

Guest Column
By James Cummins

Most people do not stop to think about the important role that forest products play in our everyday lives, especially in Mississippi. From clean air, paper, buildings, bridges, energy, chemicals, and the jobs that support the production of all these things, our world depends on trees to provide for us.

National Forest Products Week will be observed October 17-23, 2021. This annual observance began on September 13, 1960, when Congress passed a joint resolution providing for the establishment of an annual National Forest Products Week to be held each year on the week beginning with the third Sunday in October. (Ironically, it was Representative E.L. “Tic” Forrester from Georgia who presented the proclamation in the House for approval.) President Eisenhower signed the first proclamation 2 days later, while calling on the people of the United States to observe the week of October 16, 1960, “with activities and ceremonies designed to focus attention on the importance of our forests and forest products to the Nation’s economy and welfare.”

During this time we should recognize the research that has been conducted by the Forest Service and Mississippi State University for more than 100 years in support of its mission to sustain the health, diversity, and productivity of the nation’s forests. This research promotes the responsible use of this natural resource. New products and technologies developed through this research create jobs, especially in rural areas, and stimulate economic growth. Without these ongoing efforts to sustain our forests, we might not have anything to celebrate.

Perhaps the best thing about forest products is that they come from a renewable and sustainable resource. Not only are wood products recyclable, durable, and energy efficient; healthy, growing forests play a key role in absorbing carbon dioxide, releasing oxygen, and storing carbon over time.

So, during the week of October 17-23, take a look around, think about the many ways that our forests benefit you in your everyday life. National Forest Products Week is a time to recognize the many products that come from our forests, the people who work in and manage our forests, the people who make the products, and how all of it contributes to our lives.

When you think about the number of people who want to change their bodies, plastic surgery seems like a profitable business to be in. It's not cheap, but it seems like some people will do whatever it takes to achieve that "perfect lie." That's the theme song from "Nip/Tuck." "Make me beautiful. A perfect soul. A perfect mind. A perfect face. A perfect lie." Personally, I've dealt with self-image issues all my life and I still do. It doesn't end once the final bell rings for high school. Even though I grew up before social media, there were plenty of magazines, television shows, and even adults in my daily life telling me what ideal beauty is, what I should wear, or how much I should weigh. I got out of high school before the dreaded uniform policies took hold. I mean, I kind of get the idea behind them, but it really does often times remind me of a cult, you know, like Heaven's Gate and their matching tracksuits. A few years ago, I started dying my hair different colors like purple and blue. I loved it. And no, it didn't distract me from being able to do my job or distract others from being able to do theirs. It was a fun experiment, but my poor hair had had enough so I had to quit. I enjoy wearing colorful makeup and unique shoes. It's a way for me to express my own sense of style and self. And putting on my makeup is one of the most therapeutic parts of my day. It has a calming effect.

I also think that being able to develop one's own sense of style is important. It's almost like an artistic expression. It's so boring and kind of creepy when everyone just looks the same. As far as plastic surgery, sure, there are a few procedures that I have often considered. But, I'm just not certain about going under the knife. The age of "selfies" has taken over. And most of them aren't even realistic looking. There are so many filters that smooth out your pores. There are editing techniques that also allow one to edit their body shape. Certain poses can also be deceiving. It gives an unrealistic view of "beauty." And besides, real beauty is supposed to come from within. Some of the prettiest people I have ever known have not had the best personalities.

People also spend way too much time worrying about what other people are wearing. Like for instance, sagging pants or what performers wear during a football game's half-time show. I get so irritated when I see posts criticizing that, but then I laugh because it's the same hypocrites who scream "my body, my choice," when it comes to wearing a face mask. Since people can't seem to stop bullying each other for what they wear outside of high school either, guess we will have to make uniforms mandatory for all adults now. (Yes, that's extreme sarcasm.) It's hard enough out here making one's way in the world. We seem to make it even harder with unrealistic beauty goals. Not only do some people turn to plastic surgery, but others develop eating disorders and other mental health problems trying to look a certain way. People can have all the plastic surgery they want and wear the most expensive clothes, but that doesn't change the inside of a person. It will take more than a scalpel to do that. Maybe society should promote more of the real beautiful people. The ones who spread real kindness, the ones who offer a helping hand without asking for anything in return, the ones are who are just genuinely good people. That's the ones we should be looking up to and that's the type of beauty I think we should be working towards. MDOT reminds residents of free resources during Fall Severe Weather Preparedness Week

JACKSON, MISS. — Governor Tate Reeves declared October 18-22, 2021, as Fall Severe Weather Preparedness Week in Mississippi. The Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) reminds residents of the free resources offered to ensure everyone stays safe on the road during severe weather. "Mississippians are no stranger to severe weather; this year alone residents throughout the state have battled a historic ice storm, tornadoes, hurricanes, flash flooding and more," said Brad White, MDOT Executive Director. "MDOT offers free travel resources so that everyone can keep themselves and their families safe before, during and after severe weather events."

When hazardous weather conditions arise drivers can use the free MDOT Traffic mobile app to get real-time access to tools that show road conditions and traffic alerts. The alert pins are interactive, providing users with more information at the touch of a finger. The public can also access this same travel information by visiting MDOTtraffic.com. Drivers can find tips on safe driving during severe weather by visiting GoMDOT.com/drivesmart. There you will also find information on how to prepare for hurricanes, tropical systems and winter weather. To stay up to date on road conditions, follow @MississippiDOT on Facebook and Twitter.

from the passable ford in the Catahoula Creek, close to the town of Caesar on the other side of the creek. After the Indian Removal by Andrew Jackson in the 1830's, there was a Great Migration of many pioneer settlers from Georgia, Florida, and the Carolinas to Mississippi and Alabama. Peyton was encouraged to move by his cousins, Solomon Lee, Jr., who settled in Simpson County, Mississippi, and Samuel Lee, who lived in Wayne County, Mississippi. The Catahoula Creek area was largely vacant but relatively close to Gainesville, Mississippi, one of only three shopping centers in southwest Mississippi at that time. The other two were Columbia and Pass Christian. Peyton and Annie made camp on a high ridge on the east side of the creek where a good spring for fresh water was located. This site was the birthplace of present day Leetown. Hardy Smith described this part of Hancock County in 1850 as "a very wild country with plenty of game and wild animals, such as bear, deer, and wolves but almost no society." Annie was a first cousin to Peyton. Her first husband, last name Williams, died young. She then married Peyton against the wishes of her parents. Annie was called "Annie Good Lee" because of her kindhearted nature, her tending to the sick, and her baking and sharing with the neighbors when needed. She was a redhead as evidenced by a lock of hair found by her descendants in an old Bible. Peyton and Annie reared four sons and three daughters. All four sons fought in the Civil War for the South. Peyton died in 1873 of heart disease, and Annie died in 1879. In a forthcoming column, stories about the Lee and Rester families will be presented.

KATHLEEN MCCAULEY ANTHONY

Kathleen McCauley Anthony was born on September 1st, 1936 and passed peacefully on October 11, 2021. Kathleen was a devoted, loving, and extraordinary wife, mother, and grandmother. She was known as Kathleen, Kathy, Mom, Aunt Kathy, Ms. Kathy, Grammy, Ma'am, and Ms. Ma'am. Kathleen was born to Joann Hayes McCauley and Bernard McCauley in Evanston Illinois. She lived in Evanston at the home of her parents, affectionately called Asbury Manor, until Kathleen wed Courtney Leroy Anthony Jr. M.D. on January 14, 1956 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Evanston, IL. They were married for 56 years.

Kathleen is preceded in death by her beloved husband Courtney, mother Joanne, father Bernard, mother-in-law Clara, father-in-law Courtney, 3 sisters; Mary McCauley, BJ Kolman, Eileen Schmalkuche, two granddaughters; Shelby Clara and Emily Irene Anthony, grandparents, numerous aunts, uncles, cousins and two grand-nephews. She is survived by her six children, Courtney Leroy Anthony III (Darlaine), Brigid Anthony Underwood (Mark), Brian Thomas Anthony (Lisa), John Michael Anthony (Lauren), Stephen James Anthony (Jamie), and Liesl Marie Anthony Goscienski (Mark). In addition, she is survived by 12 grandchildren: Mick, Jordan, Lily Kate, Tucker, Parker, Meghan, Evan, Cooper, Cullen, Stevie, Courtney, and Thomas, her brother Lawrence McCauley, and 6 nieces and nephews: Daniel, David, Joanne, Elizabeth, Erin, and Eric.

After their wedding, Kathleen and Courtney worked together to start their family while Courtney pursued the Medical Doctorate degree, he received in 1959 because of their partnered efforts. After Courtney graduated from medical school, she grew into the role of an exceptional US Army doctor's wife. They were stationed at Tripler Army Medical Center in Honolulu HI, Letterman Army Medical Center in San Francisco, Madigan Army Medical Center in Tacoma WA, Landstuhl Army Medical Center in Landstuhl Germany, and Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington DC. They added to their brood at all but one of these duty stations. They left the Army and moved to Memphis to become part of the UT Medical Center / Le Bonheur Children's Hospital family where she had a tremendous positive impact on medical students, residents, medical staff, and patient families. Among many other generous contributions, she provided an educational lunch to the medical students every Tuesday at the campus Interfaith Chapel. She initiated an annual welcoming dinner for all the incoming Pediatric Cardiology fellows and their spouses, a tradition that continues today. They returned to San Francisco for several years but finally came back to Memphis and Le Bonheur in 2001. Kathleen was a devoted, active, and contributing member of the St. Peter Catholic Church parish including serving as a minister to the sick and shut ins.

Kathleen created a beautiful life for her family while working tirelessly outside the home to further the family goal of providing the best opportunities for her children and their futures. She was a self-taught gourmet chef to rival the greatest names in the culinary world. All of her children's friends raved about and devoured her refrigerator of leftovers. Her travels made her into the quintessential travel agent and companion. She could, off the top of her head, provide the names of B&Bs and the owners, hotels and the managers, restaurants (complete with menus and suggestions), bars, chefs, bartenders, and of course points of interest and insider tips for any intended travel destination. She also contributed time and energy to numerous charitable activities including the Irish American Pediatric Society, the American Heart Association, and the Catholic Church.

Throughout these marvelous journeys and adventures Kathleen perpetually added to her list of friends and created an epic Christmas card list. She faithfully nurtured strong ties with family and all friends, both old and new, throughout her life. Her ties to Ireland ran so deep that her husband adopted Ireland as his ancestral country of origin. Together they traveled to Ireland to visit the Irish members of our family numerous times and she tried her best to foster these connections for the next generation. Kathleen strongly believed in the six degrees of separation for all of us on this planet. Each stranger she met would quickly become a new friend because she could find the connection, they shared in just a few moments of conversation, usually well less than six degrees, and then together the newly met friend and Kathleen would enjoy a long, pleasant conversation.

Kathleen, Kathy, Mom, Aunt Kathy, Ms. Kathy, Grammy, Ma'am, and Ms. Ma'am will be missed by a multitude of family and friends. This tough stubborn little Irish woman leaves this world a much better place and she did it with incredible poise, grace, peaceful determination, and a colossal philosophical dry sense of humor. As she always said, "It will always be alright in the end, if it's not alright then it's not the end". So, this must not be the end for those left behind, just another beginning.

Visitation will be 5-7 p.m. Thursday, October 21, 2021, at Canale Funeral Directors with a Rosary at 7 p.m. Funeral Mass will be 10 a.m. Friday October 22, 2021, at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Memphis. She was fearless. Catherine, with her beautiful smile, worked as a hostess at the Bonefish Grill. Catherine was in a coma when she was transferred from a hospital to Arkansas Hospice. We were only with them two days, but the care, love and comfort they brought us cannot be measured. Mississippi Supreme Court Chief Justice Mike Randolph issued an emergency order on Wednesday, Oct. 13, extending the time for COVID-19 safeguards in all courts.

Emergency Administrative Order 23 gives individual judges discretion to postpone jury trials scheduled through Nov. 12. It is the third emergency order issued since August which allows judges to postpone jury trials. Judges who preside over drug intervention courts also are authorized to modify scheduling of drug testing and home supervision of participants.

The Oct. 13 order leaves in effect other safety provisions reimplemented Aug. 5, including using teleconferencing, videoconferencing and electronic filing to limit in-person contact in courts, and allowing felony plea hearings, felony sentencing hearings and probation violation hearings to be conducted remotely by way of interactive audiovisual equipment.

Freeman allegedly shoved the woman backwards, and she fell against the corner of a countertop, bruising her back, according to a complaint.

After his arrest, Freeman was released on a $500 bond.

A trial date has been set for Dec. 7 in Hancock County Justice Court. If convicted, Freeman could face a fine up to $500, up to six months in jail, or both.

Supervisors discuss county’s constables

BY CASSANDRA FAYRE
STAFF WRITER

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday discussed the county’s constables.

County attorney Gary Yarborough said that the constables’ duties are set by statute.

“As far as supervision of them, their roles are detailed in their duties and their reports and attendance as to the justice court and they’re subject to their jurisdictions under the justice court,” he said. “So, basically, we budget and pay for the constable, but we don’t have jurisdiction over the constables. So if there’s issues with constables or not, any petitions actually have to be submitted under the statute to the justice court for his (judge) review. And that’s who handles those, not us.”

Yarborough said that the supervisors had recently received correspondence about constables, one of those complaints being court documents not being served on time.

Yarborough said that if someone has a complaint about a constable, the county is to direct him or her to submit their complaint directly to the justice court.

The applicable statute is 19-treatment at MD Anderson in Houston.

“I wanted to take our pain and turn it into a passion, and impact other lives with the same struggle,” Michael said.

In addition to raising funds, Michael also drives from Houston to Hancock County to pick up patients and take them back to Houston for their treatments.

The parade begins at 11 a.m. at the Washington Street Pier in Bay St. Louis. It will run down South Beach Boulevard to Coleman Avenue in Waveland, over the railroad tracks to Herlihy Street and ends at Martin Luther King, Jr. Park.

So far, Michael said, there are about 20 vehicles registered to parade.

The deadline to register vehicles is Thursday, Oct. 21 at midnight. People can register at www.constancecaresforcancer.org.

After the parade, Constance Cares for Cancer will present checks to families in need to help cover medical and personal expenses related to cancer treatments, Michael said. Proceeds are evenly distributed amongst families.

“We ask that anyone who has won the battle with cancer or even lost someone to it to decorate your vehicle and join us in the parade in memory of your loved one,” Michael said.

This year’s guest speaker will be cancer survivor Elaine Parker of Bay St. Louis, Michael said.

Michael said he is planning to expand next year’s fundraising event to include a golf tournament in September, prior to October’s parade.

first time.

“I’m very excited about these new machines,” Hancock Circuit Clerk Kendra Ladner Necaise said last week. “The voters will now be hand-marking their paper ballots. Once completed, they’ll use the precinct scanners to cast their ballots.

“The new DS200 provides an efficient way for voters to cast their ballots, and it’s going to be easier for poll workers to open and close the precincts, as well as for election officials to accumulate the results on election night.”

Necaise said more than half of the state’s registered voters are now using the new system.

“We are now more autonomous with conducting elections and now also have a ballot-on-demand system with the ability to print absentee ballots,” Necaise said. “The TSX machines (we were using) were at the end of life and getting harder to maintain.”

In fact, the county had used the TSX machines since 2006, Necaise said, and the machines are worn, with replacement parts scarce.

A model DS200 machine will be on display in Necaise’s office at the historic Hancock County Courthouse in downtown Bay St. Louis from now until the election, she said. Voters can visit during regular office hours, Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., to check out the machine, if they’d like.

The new machines were purchased with Help America Vote Act federal funds, Necaise said.

The cities of Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead have already used the new machines, she said, casting ballots on them in this year’s municipal elections, “but this will be the first time the rest of the county uses them.”

Necaise said the new machines are faster, more efficient, and should help the entire voting process go much more smoothly at every precinct.

The special Hancock County Coroner’s race is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 2. Polls will be open from 7 a.m.-7 p.m.

Three people have qualified for the race, including Jeff Hair, Tina Stanfill and Melissa Taillon.

Hair is a long-time law enforcement officer. Stanfill is a paramedic, currently serving with American Medical Response. Taillon previously served as Hancock chief deputy coroner.

Since it is a special election, the candidates are running without political affiliation.

Former Hancock Coroner Jim Faulk announced his resignation in July, citing health reasons, including cancer and congestive heart failure.

Faulk’s certification was suspended in March, and he was accused of failing to comply with mandatory reporting to Child Protective Services; failure to report overdose deaths to the Bureau of Narcotics; failure to comply with adequate preservation of evidence; and failure to submit correct documentation.

Pearl River County Coroner Derek Turnage has handled the coroner’s duties in Hancock County since Faulk’s suspension.

Finding a Song in the Wilderness

By C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.*C. Gerald Richardson, D. Min.

The Psalms are part of what we know as biblical wisdom literature. Much of it is set against the backdrop of the conquering of the Jewish people. Many were taken as captives into Babylonian exile around the mid to late 500's B.C.E. This was an incredibly hard time for the people of Israel. All that they had trusted seemed to be taken away. There seemed to be little hope that restoration would come. They languished in despair for years. They never forgot their homeland or their former lives, but they lived in great dread that they would never be home again.

One of the most moving expressions of their longing is recorded in Psalm 137.

“By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, and there we wept

when we remembered Zion.

On the willows there we hung our harps,

For there our captors asked us for songs, and our tormentors asked for mirth, saying, “sing us one of the songs of Zion”.

How could we sing the Lord's song in a foreign land?”?

Thankfully, not many in our cultural experience have been required to face such terrible circumstances.. However, people of all times and places can be confronted with situations which challenge us, depress us, grieve us, and take away our hope. Having to live in a strange land either physically, emotionally, or spiritually may present us with questions similar to the ones asked by the ancient Hebrews. It could be the loss of a deeply loved family member or friend. Maybe it comes with a business or professional setback. Perhaps it is that dark night of the soul when faith is tested and doubt overwhelms. However it comes, most people have known times when they wonder if they can ever find a song again. In such occasions we may ask, “How can I sing the Lord's song in this strange and painful place?”.

In all honesty, there are no easy answers. Some problems do not just go away. Some questions are unanswered. Fears can be real. Some losses are permanent. The challenge here is not to find a way out, and it is certainly not to deny reality. The goal in such moments is to discover meaning and hope that is imagined in a new way. People do it all the time. Whether the struggle is with a debilitating illness or injury, financial trouble, relationship breakdown, personal loss, painful depression, or something else, the issue is always what we do with it. History is replete with examples of persons who have taken their worst experiences and turned them into new and unexpected possibilities.

Spirituality plays a role here.

It is not a matter of proper doctrine or the right belief system, although this is helpful for many. What is crucial is the discovery of that reality deep within us which can be the source of strength for finding new and hopeful life. It is there, and it can offer a new future.

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre The Beverly Hillbillies Sells Out Opening Weekend

SEA COAST ECHO

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre is coming back after the Covid shut down. The Board of Directors has chosen the comeback season to be ‘A Season of Comedies.’

To open the new season, the comedy hit is the iconic “The Beverly Hillbillies.” The show is scheduled to open on October 15, 2021. “This is the perfect comedy to bring to our community after a season of pandemic scare and isolation. I found myself laughing out loud while reading the first page of the script,” stated Board member Clayton Pennylegion. Based on the rehearsals, laughter is promised throughout the show.

The show originated from the TV series created by Paul Henning. The playscript was adapted by David Rogers. The TV series was a top rated show for its nine-year run on TV.

The show’s cast includes Lex Mauffray, Lana Price, Sydney Grove, Michael Schultz, Clayton Pennylegion, Nancy Moynan, Genie Talbert, Terry Cullen, Chris Cochran, Syvia Hanes, Kimberly Schmotzer, Jonah Schmotzer, Irv Hansen, Jim Codling, Kellie Noel, Gail Trahan, and Karen West.

The show is produced and directed by Cheryl Grace. Paul Bernard is the assistant director. Maggie Wooten is the stage manager. Assistant stage manager is Barry Newman. Assisting in props, costumes, and show research are Paul Bernard and Gail Trahan. Dean Noel is in charge of set design and construction. Phillip Dutton will manage lights and sound. Clayton Pennylegion creates sound effects and cast poster. This promises to be a sell-out show!

Doors open one hour before showtime. Seating starts 30 minutes before the show.

SEA COAST ECHO

Around the world, the Month of October is “New Member Month” for Lions Clubs International (LCI). During this month Lions everywhere are inviting members of their local communities to check out what being a Lion really means and to make it easy to join the lions club.

If you could:

Would you help the Blind and Vision Impaired to live a normal productive life?

Would you participate in Diabetes Awareness for both adults and the youth?

Would you help the hearing impaired with hearing aids and therapy to restore their appreciation of the many important sounds they have been missing?

Would you help to train our youth to be responsible adults and become leaders for the next generation?

Would you feed the hungry in communities where conditions cause hunger?

Would you help find the causes and work for a cure for Childhood cancer?

Would you help plant trees and other steps to preserve our world’s livable environment?

Would you work to treat and cure epidemic and pandemic diseases like Measles and Covid-19?

Would you provide aid and shelter to those victims of natural disasters like hurricanes Katrina, Isaac and Ida, and tornados and flooding in Mississippi and MEET CHAMP.

Check out those ears and that big grin! This sweet boy is always happy, ready to play and ready to have fun. He is just one of those dogs that loves everyone he meets.

both human and canine. He has a friendly nature, so we are seeking a fun family who wants their dog to be part of the family and join in their adventures. Champ would be an awesome buddy for a single person, couple or active retirees, or he would be a trusted family pet and best friend to your kids. Champ loves to go for walks, but he does need additional leash training. We've been training him with a harness, and he is showing marked improvement. In true Labrador Retriever/Bloodhound form, he loves following an interesting scent. As he loves playing outdoors when not cuddling and giving kisses, a home with a fenced backyard is a must. Champ is only 2 to 3 years old, and he has many years of unconditional love to give his new family. If you would like to meet this fab boy, please call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule a meet-n-greet, or stop by during visiting hours: Mon-Fri 10am-3pm (Tues 12pm-3pm). Please bring your family dog(s) and children along for the visit to ensure compatibility.

into our water system,” Favre said Tuesday. “We’re the only entity in the county that does that. The county water system doesn’t, Waveland doesn’t. We have to either remove it from our system so we’re able to start buying from the county water system, or we need to reroute the injection port so there’s no chance of (the fluoride) mixing with their water coming in and possibly going through their system.”

The naturally-existing fluoride in the system already meets state and federal recommendations, he said.

The Bay St. Louis city water supply has long been a point of contention among residents, due primarily to its clarity, or lack thereof.

“The quality of our water is perfectly fine,” Favre said, “it’s as good as anywhere, but as we all know, the clarity isn’t the best.”

Some have called it “tea-colored.”

“The casino/Cedar Point area is probably the worst,” Favre said, “coming across the highway to Old Town. We’re just hoping to clear up the water. The water that would be provided from the county would be a clear water.

“I think we’re probably looking at trying to purchase maybe a half-million gallons a day from the county. We’d still need to use a couple of our wells — 10th Street and St. Charles — and probably take the Harry Street well offline.”

Favre said there are still a few hoops city officials have to jump through in order to move t the county system.

“We’re at the process now of advertising and (conducting) workshops and going through the process to remove the fluoride,” Favre said. “The whole timeline is a couple of months drawn out. There’ll be workshops and public hearings. It will probably be after the first of the year.”

teach our youth and keep our communities safe,” said Bell.

Bell grew up in Hancock County, graduating from Bay High before attending law school at the University of Mississippi. He has been a practicing attorney since 1989, focusing solely on personal injury cases for over two decades here in Hancock County. “Deciding who could enter this giveaway was easy. In my area of law, I often work with first responders, and I have the utmost respect for them. Plus I’ve been involved with supporting our teachers for years, as a parent of four children who have graduated, as the youth court judge for several years, and as a long-time active member of the Hancock Chamber’s Education Committee.” Bell added, “I’m just glad this is a random drawing, though. Picking the winners would be too hard!”

Entrants only need to sign up one time and will stay in the drawing unless their name is drawn as a winner. The Law Office of Brehm Bell plans to continue the monthly giveaway at least through September of 2022.

and people with no transportation and bring them to church. ... When you take that way from us, we don’t have anything. We don’t have insurance for this, we just had liability.”

Volunteers also used the van to pick up groceries and other items for Bayside Park residents in need, as well as taking children to parks and transporting them back and forth to vacation bible school, the pastor said.

Church volunteers often work to benefit the entire community, DeVault said, not just church members.

For instance, the basketball courts — built for the church a few years ago by a Georgia congregation — are open to all the residents of Bayside Park.

“We light up the basketball courts,” he said, “we do not lock them. We turn the lights on at night so they have a place to shoot baskets in a safe space,” but vandals keep busting out the lights.

“Now, we have kids that if we get a water fountain, they kick it over and destroy it, and then we don’t get water any more.

“I’m not a person for pointing fingers — I just want it to be known that this is a community that’s better than what (these people are) acting like. For a long time, a lot of people would say, okay, Satan’s in control of this community because of the drugs and the violence and the broken families in the neighborhood, but I’m saying God is in control, and the devil’s trying us.”

DeVault said the church has another van, donated a few months ago by a church member, but it’s a 1989 model with 877,000 miles on it.

“As long as it gets from point A to point B in a safe manner, we’re going to use it, for now,” he said.

If anyone has information about the bus fire or any other acts of vandalism in Bayside Park, they may contact Hancock County Sheriff’s Office at 228-466-6900. For questions about Bayside Baptist Church, call 228-467-0500.

The board appointed Blaine LaFontaine on an interim basis to the Coastal Mississippi Board of Commissioners. He will fill the seat left vacant by Clay Wagner on Sept. 29. The unexpired term runs until June 30, 2023.

The board approved a request from the city of Bay St. Louis to assist in funding the Scianna Lane Drainage project with an estimated project cost of $500,000, fifty percent from the city of Bay St. Louis and fifty percent from Hancock County. The motion included drafting a memorandum of understanding which caps the county’s contribution at $250,000 and will reimburse the city of Bay St. Louis once the request for reimbursement is received. The project is the city’s, and Bay St. Louis will assume all liability.

TIGERS' LATE RALLY BEATS PASS HIGH 20-17

BY HUNTER DAWKINS
THE GAZEBO GAZETTE

The Bay High Tigers rallied late in the fourth quarter to defeat “cross-bridge,” district rival Pass Christian High School 20-17. Similar to last year, Bay High (6-2, 1-1) won this high school football game in the last two minutes.

“It was one hell of a football game,” stated Bay High Head Football Coach Jeremy Turcotte. “Pass Christian has got unbelievable athletes that were very tough to deal with. Coach Carmody over at Pass Christian is doing a great job, I have to tip my hat to my offensive staff as our plan was to go out and play physical football.”

With more than 200 yards total offense from the ground, the Tigers won the game in the fourth quarter. Trailing 10-6 at the start of the fourth quarter, Bay High running back Noah Cutter carried the team on his back, scoring his second touchdown on a nine-play drive from three yards out. After Fisher Decamp struggled and missed the extra point, the Tigers took the lead for the first time 12-10.

The Pirates (3-3, 0-2) went back on top quickly when tailback Larry Burks ran right through the middle for a 25-yard touchdown with 9:25 left. Pass High Kicker Davon Klein converted the extra point for a 17-12 lead. Earlier, Klein’s extra point gave him 100 points during his four years as the placekicker for Pass High.

utes, controlling the ball for 15 plays with the Tigers’ star running back Cutter scoring his third touchdown from eight yards out.

Even though Decamp didn’t convert any extra points all night, he tossed a completion on a fake extra point (i.e. Statue of Liberty), converting two points and securing the 20-17 victory with 2:35 left in the game.

Pass High Quarterback Kameron White tried to catch a player offside in the final series and instead hit Bay High defensive back Tysen Hawkins for an interception to ice the game.

It was an incredible performance by Bay High’s Cutter, who gained more than 150 yards and three touchdowns that were all scored in the second half.

“I can’t say enough about my kids’ huge heart and character tonight,” said Turcotte. “They pulled off big plays when we needed them.”

Both teams struggled during the first quarter offensively, but the Pirates jumped on the board first with a 44-yard touchdown pass between White and Pass High Receiver Terry Patton. Following the conversion from Klein, the early score was Pass 7-0 with 6:55 left in the half; which remained the half-time score.

Storming from the gates, Bay High began its first 14-play scoring drive with Cutter racing around the corner from seven yards for the Tigers’ touchdown. Decamp missed the extra point, leaving the Pirates with a 7-6 lead.

The Pirates used their ground attack on their opening 11-play drive, only to see it squandered by penalties in the red zone. Klein chipped in a 30-yard field goal with 2:12 seconds left in the third quarter to give the Pirates their last secure lead of the game 10-6.

“We didn’t make the plays at the end of the game,” commented Pass Christian Head Football Coach Chase Carmody. “Bay High converted the plays in the second half, give the credit to them.”

Pass Christian finished with under 300 yards total offense and had only one drive over ten plays.

The Bay High Tigers play Moss Point on the road at Dantzler Stadium while Pass Christian hits the road to play Stone County in Wiggins next Friday, Oct. 22.

Hawks Fall To Warriors

Hancock capped an eight-play drive with a field goal on the game’s opening possession, but D’Iberville scored 35 points before the Hawks would score again on their way to a 35-9 win over the Hawks in the Kiln on Friday.

The Hawks’ opening drive followed a Pierre Fowler 25-yard kickoff return to open the game, and Brandon King pass completions for 8 and 35 yards. The second completion was to Jeffrey Hopgood to the D’Iberville 24 yardline.

Fowler carried for a 6-yard gain, and a pass interference call against D’Iberville would move the ball half the distance to the goal line to the 9 yardline. But the drive lost steam as the Hawks were called for a procedure penalty, and two pass attempts fell incom-

Rocks contain Bulldogs 25-18

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws and the Seminary Bulldogs had never met on the gridiron before Friday’s contest in Seminary. At the end of the game, the Rocks (3-4, 2-1) held a touchdown lead to give them the first victory in the series.

The Bulldogs (2-7, 0-3) started the game on offense and used a methodical 14-play drive to drive down the field which culminated in a two-yard Wade Barr dive into the endzone with 5:28 remaining in the opening quarter. The PAT missed leaving leaving score 6-0.

The Rocks looked to be in a groove ready to answer the Bulldogs but after seven consecutive strong carries by Davien Lagarde, the Rocks were intercepted on the Bulldog 13 yard line.

The two squads traded possessions before the Rocks got the ball back on their own 26 yard line. It took SSC 10 plays to find the endzone when Lagarde broke free for an 18-yard sprint to paydirt with 1:51 left in the half. Evan Noel converted the PAT to make the score 7-6.

Seminary answered the call on the ensuing possession when Ladarious Keys turned the corner for a 79-yard scoring run on the third play from scrimmage with 44 seconds left before halftime. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 12-7.

On the Rocks second possession of the second half, they took the lead for good. With an intermixing of the run and pass, the Rocks moved down the field in seven plays. Alex Fabra connected with Jackson Montjoy for a 32-yard gain to the Bulldog 43 yard line. The drive culminated with Lagarde scoring on a 30-yard run with 3:48 left in the third quarter. Noel missed the first PAT of his career leaving the score 13-12.

After the Rocks held the Bulldogs at bay, the Rocks used another seven-play drive to find the endzone. The drive started with another Fabra-to-Montjoy connection for 13 yards before Lagarde went on five consecutive carries of 6, 18, 19, 2, and 3 yards. The drive ended with Fabra hooking up with Montjoy on an eight-yard scoring toss with 11:53 left in the game. Noel’s PAT missed the mark leaving the score 19-12.

Each team traded a possession before Seminary answered the bell with a 68-yard scoring aerial from Barr to Keys with 5:56 left in the game. The PAT failed leaving the score 19-18.

The Rocks gave themselves some insurance on the ensuing drive when Fabra capped the five-play drive with a two-yard scoring run with 3:04 remaining in the game. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 25-18.

The Bulldogs went to the air to move the ball down the field. On the fifth play of the drive, Ja’Kobe Cameron intercepted the Bulldogs at the Rock 5 yard line and returned it for what appeared to be a 95-yard pick-six. However, the ball came back to the Rock 20 yard line after a penalty but the Rocks had preserved the final outcome.

SSC head coach Nate Encrapera commented, “Davien Lagarde has been phenomenal all year long. This was not exactly the role for him but he stepped up to fill it this year and he has always been that type of guy. He is the type of player who can play wherever you ask him. Defensively, we still need to manage space, work on leverage and angles. I am proud of the guys and how they stepped up in a tight game. We have to get ready for Perry Central which is a much improved team who can do so many things well. We have to continue to get better and be ready for their absolute best.”

Lagarde led the Rocks with 32 carries for 240 yards and two touchdowns. It is the third time this year Lagarde has rushed for more than 200 yards. With his total, he has now rushed for 1,106 yards on the season which is the first time a Rock running back has achieved that mark since Delvin Henry in 2018.

Fabra connected on 6-of-15 passes for 134 yards and a touchdown. Montjoy had three catches for 52 yards.

On defense, Jacob Bradford recorded 12 tackles followed by Montjoy with eight and Joe Bradford and Ryan Tyler with seven each.

their ensuing possession, but when the Warriors’ offense took the field the second time, it was clearly a different Hawks’ defense as the Warriors’ seven-play drive included two sacks by the Hawks’ defense. The Warriors were forced to punt, facing fourth down with 20 yards to go for a first down at their own 40 yardline.

“That first drive they kind of smacked us a little bit,” said Hawks’ coach Neil Lollar. “The defensive coaches made an adjustment with the linebackers and that really helped. Once the guys caught up to the speed of the game, unfortunately we gave up seven points before that happened, but our defense only gave up 14 points tonight.

“We’ve got to take care of us in all three phases of the game,” said Lollar. “I think our defense did a great job after that first drive of putting us in position to make plays. Hopefully that is a stepping stone for Monday, working next week.”

The Warriors led 14-3 at halftime, and there was anticipation of a second half rally in the Kiln as the Hawks returned to the field. And the jubilation in the stands persisted as a 9-play Warriors’ drive failed on a fourth-and-11 yards pass attempt fell incomplete.

King completed a 7-yard pass to Fowler on second down. But on third down, his pass attempt went incomplete, and the Hawks were forced to punt.

That punt was returned for 71 yards for a touchdown and a 20-3 lead for the Warrriors after the failed PAT kick.

The Hawks were not dismayed as they took the ensuing onside kick at midfield and moved the ball all the way to the D’Iberville 14 yardline with the boost of a 17-yard Hopgood carry and a 10-yard Fowler carry. But the drive would end as Dylan Moran connected with Cameron Miller for 19 yards on fourth down, short of the needed 31 yards for a first down.

The Warriors’ offense would capitalize on the momentum generated by their defense with an 83-yard run for a touchdown on the second snap followed by a two-point conversion pass for a 28-3 lead over the Hawks.

The Hawks offense failed to pick up a first down on their next two possessions, which were separated by a single snap by the Warriors as Gyainna Smith recovered a fumble for the Hawks at the D’Iberville 44 yardline.

Jasper Talley tallied an interception on the Warriors’ third snap, and returned the pick fifteen yards to the D’Iberville 10 yardline. On third-and-goal from the eight yardline, the Hawks suffered a turnover - a fumble - which would result in an 80-yard scoop and score for Di’Iberville and a 35-3 lead with just under seven minutes remaining on the game clock.

The Hawks would recover a D’Iberville fumble on the Warriors’ next possession, and the Hawks would take advantage of excellent field position at the D’Iberville 23 yardline. Facing fourth-and-11 yards for a first down, King connected with Todd Dedeaux for a diving catch in the back corner of the end zone for the game’s final score.

King completed five of 13 passes for 75 yards and a touchdown. Hopgood led the Hawks’ receivers with two receptions for 43 yards. Fowler led the Hawks’ rushing attack with 51 yards on 9 carries.

breast cancer awareness month

EARLY WARNING SIGNS FOR BREAST CANCER

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, an annual campaign to raise awareness about the impact of breast cancer.

Breast cancer affects millions of women across the globe every year. According to the World Health Organization, breast cancer is the most frequent cancer among women, affecting 2.1 million women each year. As daunting as that may seem, the WHO also notes that early diagnosis can greatly reduce a woman’s risk of dying from breast cancer.

Women can be proactive in the fight against breast cancer by learning to identify early warning signs of the disease. The nonprofit breast cancer advocacy organization Susan G.

Komen® notes that the warning signs for breast cancer are not the same for all women, but the most common signs include a change in the look or feel of the breast or a change in the look or feel of the nipple. A discharge from the nipple is another common warning sign of breast cancer.

Physical changes in the breast can vary, but Susan G. Komen® advises women who notice these changes to bring them to the attention of their physicians immediately:

- Lump, hard knot or thickening inside of the breast or underarm area
- Change in the size or shape of the breast
- Swelling, warmth, redness or darkening of the breast

- Dimpling or puckering of the skin

Women with breast cancer also may notice physical changes in their nipples, including:

- Itchy, scaly sore or rash on the nipple
- Pulling in of the nipple or other parts of the breast

It’s important that women recognize that physical changes in their breasts are not necessarily indicative of breast cancer. In fact, the American Breast Cancer Foundation notes that not all lumps in the breast cause cancer and that many such lumps are benign. Fibroadenomas and intraductal papillomas are examples of benign lumps, though it’s important to note that even benign conditions such as these may put women at greater risk of developing breast cancer.

Susan G. Komen® notes that breast tissue naturally has a lumpy texture. If lumpiness can be felt throughout the breast and it feels like your other breast, then it’s likely that this is just the normal texture of your breasts. However, women concerned by a lump or lumpy texture are urged to discuss those concerns with their physicians immediately.

Discharge from the nipple is another potential sign of breast cancer, but Susan G. Komen® notes that such discharge is rarely a sign of cancer. Discharges that occur without squeezing the nipple, occur in only one breast or are bloody or clear are potentially indicative of more serious conditions, including breast cancer.

Breast cancer is a formidable foe. But women who arm themselves with knowledge of the disease, including its early warning signs, are in better position to overcome it.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

Ask your doctor when you should get a mammogram.

Other than skin cancer, breast cancer is the most common cancer among American women. Mammograms are the best way to find breast cancer early, when it is easier to treat and before it is big enough to feel or cause symptoms.

What Are the Symptoms?

There are different symptoms of breast cancer, and some people have no symptoms at all. Symptoms can include—

- Any change in the size or the shape of the - breast.

- Pain in any area of the breast.
 - Nipple discharge other than breast milk (including blood).
 - A new lump in the breast or underarm.
- If you have any signs that worry you, see your doctor right away.

How Can I Lower My Risk?

You can do things to help lower your breast cancer risk.

- Keep a healthy weight and exercise regularly.
- Don’t drink alcohol, or limit the amount of alcohol you drink.
- If you are taking hormone replacement therapy or birth control pills, ask your doctor about the risks.

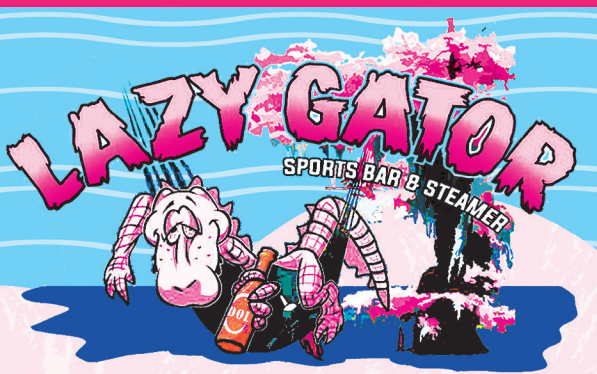

- Breastfeed your children, if possible.

Fast Facts About Breast Cancer

- Each year in the United States, about 255,000 women get breast cancer and 42,000 women die from the disease.
- Men also get breast cancer, but it is not very common. About 1 out of every 100 breast cancers diagnosed in the United States is found in a man.
- Most breast cancers are found in women who are 50 years old or older, but breast cancer also affects younger women.

THE RISK FACTORS FOR BREAST CANCER

No two women are the same. But when it comes to breast cancer, women from all walks of life share various risk factors for a disease that the World Health Organization indicates is the most frequent cancer among women.

Risk factors are anything that affects the likelihood that individuals will get a certain disease. In regard to breast cancer, the American Breast Cancer Foundation notes that various factors, some that result from lifestyle choices and others that are not changeable, can increase a woman’s risk of developing breast cancer. Recognizing these risk factors can help women make any necessary changes and even highlight the importance of routine cancer screenings that can detect the presence of the disease in its earliest, most treatable stages.

Lifestyle-related risk factors
The ABCF notes that certain habits or behaviors can increase a woman’s risk for breast cancer. But the good news is that women who understand the link between certain habits or behaviors and breast cancer can avoid those behaviors to decrease their risk of developing the disease. According to Breastcancer.org, the following are some habits, behaviors or lifestyle choices that can increase a woman’s risk for breast cancer.

- Alcohol consumption: Breastcancer.org notes that researchers have uncovered links between the consumption of alcoholic beverages and hormone-receptor-positive breast cancer. One study found that women who consume three alcoholic beverages per week have a 15 percent higher risk of developing breast cancer than women who don’t drink at all. And while research into the connection is limited, a 2009 study found a link between alcohol consumption and breast cancer recurrence.

- Sedentary lifestyle: Exercise consumes and controls blood sugar and limits blood levels of insulin growth factor. That’s an important connection, as insulin growth factor can affect how breast cells grow and behave. A sedentary lifestyle also can increase a woman’s risk of being obese, which the ABCF notes is a risk factor for breast cancer among postmenopausal women.

- Smoking: Smoking has long been linked to cancer, and Breastcancer.org notes that smoking has been linked to a higher risk of breast cancer in younger, premenopausal women.

Unchangeable risk factors

Unfortunately, many risk factors for breast cancer are beyond women’s control. For example, the ABCF notes that roughly two out of three invasive breast cancers occur in women age 55 and older. Women cannot change their ages, but recognizing the link between age and breast cancer risk is important, as such a recognition may compel more women 55 and older to prioritize cancer screening.

Gender and family history are two additional unchangeable risk factors for breast cancer. Women are much more likely to get breast cancer than men. In addition, Breastcancer.org notes that between 5 and 10 percent of breast cancers are believed to be caused by abnormal genes that are passed from parent to child.

Women are not helpless in the fight against breast cancer. Knowledge of breast cancer, including its various risk factors, is a great weapon against it as women look to reduce their risk of developing the disease.

COVID-19 AND BREAST CANCER GUIDELINES

The novel coronavirus COVID-19 first appeared in late 2019 and has changed life for the foreseeable future. While many people are quick to focus on the ways COVID-19 has impacted their abilities to shop, visit with friends and relatives or travel, the virus has made life especially difficult for people with preexisting health conditions.

Medical News Today reports that the symptoms of COVID-19 may be more severe for breast cancer patients. Furthermore, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention notes that undergoing cancer treatment can weaken the immune system, further increasing a person’s vulnerability to infection. Specifically, targeted therapies, chemotherapy and radiation can weaken the immune system and compromise its ability to fight off the coronavirus. Furthermore, these treatments also may cause lung problems that can exacerbate COVID-19 symptoms, particularly among breast cancer patients whose cancer has metastasized to the lungs.

In April 2020, new guidelines for the prioritization and treatment of breast cancer patients during the COVID-19 pandemic were released, compiled by a group of U.S. medical organizations, including the National Accreditation Program for Breast Centers, the American College of Radiology and the Comprehensive Cancer Network. At hospitals where resources and staff have become limited due to COVID-19 treatment efforts, doctors have had to define which breast cancer patients need urgent care and which can have delayed or alternative treatments. These measures can help balance maintaining positive survival outcomes as well as reducing risk of exposure to the virus, according to the American Society of Breast Surgeons.

Breast cancer patients have been broken down into priority levels of A, B and C for urgency of care.

- Priority A: A patient has conditions that are immediately life-threatening or require urgent treatment.
- Priority B: A patient has conditions that don’t require immediate treatment, but he or she should begin treatment before the end of the pandemic.
- Priority C: A patient has conditions for which treatment can be safely put on hold.

Breast cancer patients are further urged to take extra caution in their daily activities to help reduce the risk of contracting COVID-19. That means always wearing a mask or another face covering when interacting with other people. This advice may be applicable even if a six-foot distance can be maintained. Wash hands frequently, especially when coming in from public places. If possible, ask a friend or family member to do your shopping or run errands for you to limit exposure to other people and crowds.

Breast cancer patients may have to discuss the possibility of altering or delaying treatment for breast cancer with their oncologists because of increased risk factors presented by COVID-19. Together, patients and doctors can work to keep breast cancer patients as healthy as possible.
